

JOB SATISFACTION, SELF-EFFICACY AND EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE
AMONG SECONDARY SCHOOL COUNSELLORS IN SELANGOR STATE-
MALAYSIA

TAH HUI XIAN

SULTAN IDRIS EDUCATION UNIVERSITY

2016

JOB SATISFACTION, SELF-EFFICACY AND EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE AMONG SECONDARY SCHOOL COUNSELLORS IN SELANGOR STATE, MALAYSIA

TAH INN XIANG

DISSERTATION /THESIS SUBMITTED IN FULFILMENT OF THE REQUIREMENT FOR THE
DEGREE OF MASTER OF EDUCATION
(EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY)

FACULTY OF HUMAN DEVELOPMENT & EDUCATION

SULTAN IDRIS EDUCATION UNIVERSITY

2016

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It would be impossible for me to complete this final year project without the spirit and the power of the highest, God. He inspired me to be strong in whatever difficult situations

From my sincere gratitude, I am deeply thankful to my final year project supervisor, Dr. Muhammed Yusuf for his endurance and fortitude in guiding me. Moreover, I ask for forgiveness from Dr. Muhammed Yusuf with all the mistakes I had made and repeated.

I am deeply grateful to my grandparent, parent and siblings for their warm and sweet encouragement as well as their understanding, motivation and support in terms of mentally and physically to complete my master level.

At last, I wish to show my thankfulness to my dearest course mates whose continuous support and encourage me during these two years of university life: Xwing Ong, Eileen Heng, Heng Siew Chen, and Jordan Yii.

To everyone that I had mentioned, I thank you. The final year project has been completed by having all of your assistance and contributions

TAH HUI XIAN
M20141000444
Master of Educational Psychology
Faculty Education and Human Development,
Sultan Idris Education University